The question about his promise was based on the possession of the correct information. It is possible that the position of the potatoes in that quarter of the field was probably due to extreme pressure on the farmer.